

Graduate Certificate of Concentration

Graduate and Professional students

The MacMillan Center sponsors four graduate certificates of concentration through the Councils on African, European, Latin American and Iberian, and Middle East Studies.

General Requirements

- Six graduate-level courses in the area of concentration (in at least two different fields), not including language courses.
- Language proficiency in at least one language relevant to the area of concentration beyond proficiency in English. For some Councils and for some individual circumstances, proficiency in two languages beyond English is required.
- Interdisciplinary research paper focused on the area of concentration

<https://macmillan.yale.edu/academic-programs/graduate-certificate-concentration>

For more information, please see the relevant Council administrator.